

SCHOOL ORATORS OF COUNTY GIVEN CONTEST PRIZES

Boys Win Seventh-Eighth
And Fifth-Sixth Grade
Honors At Lisbon.

RURAL GRADUATES GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Donor Of Prizes Declares
He Would Revive Art
Of Public Speaking.

Lisbon, June 23.—Torrid heat served only to spur oratorical fervor here Friday afternoon as 12 picked students of rural Columbiana county engaged in the ninth annual declamation contest, held in First Methodist Episcopal church under auspices of the county school system.

The interior of the church was filled by parents, sisters, brothers and friends of the young declaimers, as well as by the large class of graduates from all parts of Columbiana county.

Occasionally an infant, oppressed by the heat, cried out shrilly, momentarily drowning the oratory. At intervals a mother arose and made her way outside. Though the temperature within was at the mark where preparations might have been expected, the main part of the crowd remained to the finish.

Two Contests

Two contests were held—one for pupils of the fifth and sixth grades, and one for students of the seventh and eighth grades. Prizes were given by Atty. C. S. Speaker, of Lisbon.

Honors in the seventh-eighth grade tilt went to Chester G. Leslie of M. dleton township, who won the first prize; Ruth Elizabeth Kuhl, of Butler township, second; Ruth Miller, of Knox township, third; Margery Banks, of Yellow Creek townships, fourth; Raymond Givens, of St. Clair township, fifth, and Dorothy Marie Harris of Honover township, sixth.

In the fifth-sixth grade contest, entrants nished in the following order, in the estimation of the judges, who came from Mahoning and Stark counties: Maynard W. Fallow, of Mayfield, of Franklin Square; Bernice Mundy, of Frankfort; Hannah Brown, of Franklin township; Minnie Boyer, of Salem township, and Lucille Kenmair, of Center township.

Prizes in both contests were identical—$10, $5, $3, $2, $1 and $0.50.

Opening the contest, J. W. Moore, county superintendent of schools, commented upon the fact that the entrants in each contest represented from 100 to 125 other declaimers of the rural schools; that the six who had run the gamut had passed through three other rigorous ordeals and were the pick of the county.

At the close of the contest Mr. Speaker was invited to address the pupils. His remarks were brief, but intense. The art of public speaking, he held, had declined in recent years, wherefore he felt it worth while to foster it among pupils of grade schools.

While the judges were making their choice in the declamation contest, diplomas were awarded the rural school graduates assembled in the church—several hundred of them. The class address, entitled "The New Task of Youth," was delivered by Dr. Battelle McCarty, of Alliance. Presentation of certificates was made by Judge L. T. Farr, of Lisbon.

FOUR SUITS FILED AFTER AUTO CRASH

Auto Collides With Truck
Near Washingtonville;
Owner Is Sued.

If all the damages asked against George Patton of Akron are collected in the four cases filed against him in common pleas court at Lisbon Friday, he will have to put up something like $60,000 to square himself.

Four persons claim they were injured by running into a truck that Patton had left standing along the Cox highway, just west of Washingtonville, one night in June, 1922.

The four persons who claim they were hurt are Lee Whitehouse, a minor, of East Palestine, whose suit is brought by his father in his behalf for $20,000; John Whitehouse of East Palestine for $15,000; Joseph Craig of East Palestine, $10,000; George Walls, East Palestine, $10,000.

In each case the plaintiff alleges he was injured due to the fact that Patton had failed to place a light on his vehicle, which was below the peak of a hill and that cars going in a westerly direction had no chance of seeing the vehicle until they were almost upon it.

Girls In India Become Old Maids at 12, She Says

All the missionary societies in the city were represented when Miss Jessie Thomas gave a talk on the "Children of India," at Holy Trinity English Lutheran church Friday night. The societies were issued invitations by Mrs. Arthur Schrupp, president of the Holy Trinity society, under whose auspices the talk was given.

Assisting Miss Thomas, returned missionary from India, were the Misses Roberta Hawley, Helen Shelton and Inez Barkley, who appeared in the costumes of the Christian, Mohammedan and Hindu girls.

Miss Thomas told many interesting details of the lives of these girls and started her audience by telling that every girl in India is expected to marry before reaching the age of 12 years. After that she is an old maid.

In India there are 20,000 widows under five years of age. All a girl child hears from the time she is born is plans for her marriage. Some in fact, many of the Indian girls marry men from 50 to 60 years or even older. To be an old maid or a widow is a disgrace in India. A man may re-marry in that country but a girl can marry but once.

The Mohammedans are less inclined toward education than are the Hindus. A fifth grade education in India is considered a worthy accomplishment. The missionaries there are now conducting boarding schools where the girls may attend by paying 33 cents to one dollar a month. When the girls enter a Christian boarding school they take with them five skirts and five jackets. These garments are the only ones worn.

For their breakfast, the Hindu or Mohammedan girls eat rice in water without any seasoning whatever. For luncheon they again eat rice highly seasoned with curry. At this meal they roll the rice into balls, placing a ball in the mouth at a time.

The Indian girl believes the only way she will gain the kingdom of heaven is by obeying her husband and they make every effort to please their men in order that they may not suffer the torments of a less desirable ending.

The gigantic spectacle will include four bands.

SALEM MEN LOSE SAVINGS GIVEN TO STEAMSHIP LINE

Money Sent For Tickets To Bring Families From Transylvania.

What proved to be a fake steamship company into whose alleged coffers went thousands of dollars of hard earned savings of foreigners who bought tickets to bring their relatives to this country, became known this week when the American, Near East, and Black Sea line Inc. went into the hands of receivers.

Several local men who wanted to bring their families to the land of the free after they had worked several years to earn the money, were victims of this organization.

The plan of the operators of the scheme was to have regular steamship agents in the country handle the details and send in the money for the tickets. Having well known and reliable agents, who would not in any way know to what disadvantage they were being put, the officers of the defunct line enriched themselves to the extent of some half million dollars, it is reported.

Operating the steamship Acropolis, which happened to be the only ship the company had leased, from Constantia, Rumania, to New York city, they succeeded in getting a lot of trade because of the direct route to this country. Hardly any section was worked except the region of Rumania which is known as Transylvania, the western half of the country. If Transylvanians traveled any other way it would have been necessary to cross the entire central part of Europe across mountains with difficult passes and through the turmoil and straits of the middle European states.

Local agents for the line say that this is the first steamship line which has failed or was a distinct fake in many years. Nearly all of the line are in a prosperous condition due to their reliability.

2nd girl—"Yes, do you mean that fellow that is sitting with the two other fellows?"

1st girl—"Yes, I wonder who he is."

2nd girl—"He looks like an actor."

No. 3, wearing dark blue suit, about 25 years of age, 5 ft. 6 in.

No. 2—"Well, you wanted to get married. You can't blame me one bit yourself."

No. 3—"I know I was a fool to get married. Since I married him the only place he takes me is to mother's."

They Are Skeptical

Two men at the exposition last evening were "caught" saying the following:

1st man—"I'll bet $500 that he could never get me talking. They say he can see you talk 75 feet away, but I don't believe a word of it, do you?"

2nd man—"Well I don't know."

1st man—"What, why I wouldn't be afraid to place a thousand that he would never get me talking to you this way even ten feet away."

Note—Do you still want to make that wager?

Judge Emphasizes Folly Of Getting Autos On Credit

Cincinnati, June 23.—Finding his docket to be laden with cases involving persons who had bought cars on credit, Judge Meredith Yeatman yesterday gave a talk in municipal court on the folly of going into debt for automobiles.

"A car is a luxury," he said. "Too many persons buy automobiles and are unable to maintain them, then neglect their families."

"My advice is to be thrifty and pay for a home, then get a car when it can be afforded."

PLEA FOR LEADERS OF SCOUTS ISSUED BY COMMISSIONER

More Active Aid Promised
By Troop Committee-
men At Meeting.

The co-operation of troop committeemen in securing capable leaders for Salem's Boy Scout troops was asked Friday evening by Commissioner Lee R. Chamberlain at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms presided over by Hiram Greiner, chairman of the troop organization committee.

Speaking of his work for scouting in Salem during the last eight years, Commissioner Chamberlain declared that the brunt of the responsibility of holding the interest of the boys falls on the leaders.

The need of more scoutmasters and assistants is imperative if Salem continues to lead the county in its scouting standards, according to the commissioner who announced that Scoutmasters S. B. Coles of Troop 1 and Parker Lowell of Troop 7 would be relinquishing their positions in September. These troops and Troop 4, headed by Rev. J. P. Harman, were commended for the records they have made since the second class council was organized.

Commissioner Chamberlain stated the need of a scoutmaster for Troop 2 and Troop 3 and the committeemen of the latter troop voted to offer the leadership of Troop 3 to Scoutmaster George Miser of Troop 5, which disbanded in February.

The committeemen present assured the commissioner that they would extend more active aid in the future to build up scouting in Salem, which now holds high rank in this section of the state according to a letter received from Regional Executive Joseph M. Butler of Columbus.

TREATY PROVIDES HUMAN CONTROL OVER AIRCRAFT

Allied Powers Accept New Rules As Result Of Arms Parley.

PACT PROHIBITS BOMBING CITIES

Control Over Radio Also Provided By International Law.

Washington, June 23.—Another of the major accomplishments of the Washington arms conference has been consummated with the acceptance by the allied powers of the new rules of international law governing the use of radio and aircraft in time of war.

The revised rules, drafted at The Hague by a committee of jurists authorized by the Washington conference, constitute a comprehensive and humane control over the newest agencies of warfare, it was learned here today. The recommendations are now being drafted into the form of a treaty to give them permanency.

Of foremost importance is the absolute ban on the dread air raids, such as terrorized the populations of London and Paris during the World war.

Can't Terrorize Cities

"Aerial bombardment for the purpose of terrorizing the civilian population, of destroying or damaging private property not of a military character or of injuring non-combatants is prohibited," declares article 22. "Aerial bombardment for the purpose of enforcing compliance with requisitions in kind, or payment of contributions in money is prohibited."

Aerial bombardment is permissible under the new rules only when directed "exclusively" at a military objective. Such objectives are defined as "military forces, military works, military establishments or depots, factories constituting important and well known centers engaged in the manufacture of arms, ammunition or distinctively military supplies, lines of communication or transportation used for military purposes."

Specifically exempted are "cities, towns, villages, dwellings or buildings," with the ultimatum that in cases where it is impossible to bombard military objectives without the indiscriminate bombardment of the civilian population, "the aircraft must abstain from bombardment."

Beliguerent aircraft likewise are cautioned to take all necessary steps to "spare as far as possible buildings dedicated to public worship, art, science or charitable purposes, historic monuments, hospitals, ships, hospitals and other places where the sick and wounded are collected, provided such buildings, objects or places are not at the time used for military purposes."

Detailed instructions are given for the marking of such places so as to be distinguishable by day or night.

One of the outstanding features of the rules governing use of radio is that when "a belligerent commanding officer considers that the success of the operation in which he is engaged, may be prejudiced by the presence of vessels or aircraft equipped with radio, installations in the immediate vicinity of his armed forces, or by the use of such installations therein, he may order neutral vessels or neutral aircraft on or over the high seas."

"1.—To alter their course to such an extent as will be necessary to prevent their approaching the armed forces operating under his command, or

"2.—Not to make use of their radio transmitting apparatus while in the immediate vicinity of such forces."

Failure to comply with these commands would expose the craft to the risk of being fired upon.

That Body of Dours

DO YOUR TEETH SEEM TO BE GROWING LONGER?

Although you have no soreness, no bleeding of the gums you have begun to notice that the teeth seem longer.

Now don't let this delude you because it is often the first sign that some trouble has got into your gums, and the little bony sockets that hold your teeth are beginning to waste away. The gums are attached to these sockets and they draw away from the tooth, until the tooth seems to be half as long again as normal.

Apparently in nearly every person
the teeth gradually decay as one gets older, but perhaps only 15 or 20 per cent have this recession or drawing away of the gums from the teeth.

Now what causes it?
Most dentists believe it is due to the accumulation of tartar around the roots of the teeth.

Is it a serious matter?
Yes, because untreated it leads to loosening and permanent loss of the teeth. Besides, these poisons not only go into the blood stream but are carried into the stomach every time you eat. There have been a great many different forms of treatment since this condition was first spoken of nearly 50 years ago. These consisted for the most part of injections into the gums.

It is now felt that a general toning
up of the system is needed, particularly in the matter of the proper diet,
and the elimination of waste matter.
Dentists advise local treatment also in the form of scraping the roots of the teeth and then the brushing of the gums daily just as the teeth are brushed.

It would appear that this daily brushing or massaging prevents the formation of tartar, and also stimu-lates the flow of blood around the tooth, which means the carrying away
of the waste, and the proper nourishment of the gums.

If the teeth are slightly loose, some of the mouth washes containing zinc seem to tighten them in their sockets.
However if they are real loose the best treatment is to get rid of them before they start others on the down journey. Of course if you have bleeding gums and pus formation you have likely seen your dentist about it. I have just written the above for the individual whose only symptom is the lengthening of his teeth, and who might overlook the necessity of consulting his dentist.

Today Is Here—Use It!

A MAN must make good or make room—go forward or drop back.
No man can stand still in any position. To mark time in modern life is impossible. This statement applies to class, creed, sex or circumstances—
rich, poor, comfortable or cramped.

In an interview with one of America's most successful men, the statement was made that not one man in fifty renders intelligent service.
Look around you. Check them up and see if this is true.

If it is true that clerks watch the clock, secretaries fail to remember, department heads lack initiative, superintendents fall in a rut—if this be true, is it not time to think that this condition creates for you a field that is undeveloped?

The next successful man interviewed doubled the number of people who are incapable or indifferent. He claimed there are ninety-nine who lack intelligent enthusiasm and a sincere desire to serve, to every one that is eager and ambitious, conscientious and courageous.

You may not be ready to accept a position of responsibility today, but today is the day to begin to get ready.

And the one thing that you must do in order to fill a position of responsibility is to find what faults are holding you back, and then correct these faults. Gloss over your faults, excuse your shortcomings, and you are not yet ready for greater responsibility.

You will belong to the forty-nine or the ninety-nine.

Conquering The Mob

SAVANNAH, GEORGIA, has given convincing proof that mobs bent upon jail delivery and lynching can be checked when the authorities hold fast for law and order. Officials all along the line, from firemen and patrolmen up to the solicitor-general of the state, did their duty through five tense hours, and finally put down with comparatively few casualties an uprising that might easily have cost many lives.

The incident is refreshing evidence that determined public officials can protect their prisoners even in the face of mobs. First Sheriff Dixon met the rioters with fair words and drawn gun. Then the firemen fought them back with streams of water. Then Solicitor-General Hartridge tried persuasion. Finally, National Guardsmen, after rifle volleys in the air failed to send the rioters home, began to set up machine guns. At that the mob gave way.

In a situation of that sort a public officers first duty is to protect his prisoner. But it is his second duty to do so with as little loss of life as possible. Members of a mob become infuriated and lose all sense of proportion and obligation. If firmness can restore them to their senses the mob will dissolve and violent repression will be averted.

By their common sense in holding back the cold lead as long as possible, no less than by their firmness and unity under continued mob pressure, the public forces of Savannah have shown the country how to meet and defeat mob violence.

Two Goshen Grange Officers Quit Posts

Two candidates were initiated in the third and fourth degrees by Goshen grange Friday night. At this meeting the members decided to hold a fair at the grange hall next fall, the dates to be announced later. A fine exhibit is promised and this feature will be limited to grange members only.

Two officers of the grange resigned
at this meeting. They were Brooke Allen as trustee and C. S. French as financial secretary. Mr. French is resigning because of other duties claiming his attention.

Announcement was made of a meeting of Pomona grange to be held Saturday, June 30, at Canfield.
This will be an evening session and the program will be announced later.
A lunch was a feature of the Friday night assembly.

THIN, COOL GOODS FOR SUMMER

Methodist Church Is Redecorated

The congregation of First M. E. church will worship in the church edifice Sunday for the first time in several weeks. While service has been held in the high school auditorium workmen have been engaged in redecorating and repairing the church interior.

New lights have been installed and a concrete wall built around the property. All this work has been completed and a beautiful interior will greet the Methodists as they assemble Sunday.

Rev. H. H. Scott, pastor of the church, has just received the degree of Doctor of Divinity at Mt. Union college.

The ceiling of the church is finished in old ivory, a color which reflects nearly all of the light, and the side walls in a light cream which, like the ivory, reflects nearly all of the light. The church originally was finished in dark dull colors that absorbed the light. Much of the space in the church was dimly lighted, especially on dark days, giving the church a cramped appearance. Now, the church will be bright even on dark days, because the light is multiplied by every surface and shed evenly into all the corners of the church.

This has the effect of widening out the whole church, and gives a sense of distance in every direction. The beautiful windows, once shaded and framed in, in heavy colors, are now brought out distinctly, and the beauty of the woodwork of choir, pulpit and gallery is prominent.

Bands of brown mark out the panels and surround the windows, adding much to the clean, airy, artistic effects of the lighter colors. The whole effect is severely plain and chaste, simple and beautiful. The organ pipes are finished in bronze, and a skylight above pours a flood of light into the choir loft.

The auditorium will be illumined by one fixture, 50 inches wide, and the Sunday school room by another, in each the source of light being concealed entirely, on the principle of the modern reflex lighting system, leaving no part of the room in glare or shadow, and every part of the room permeated with a soft glow equally diffused.

The lighting system will be installed next week. The basement rooms are finished essentially as the rooms in the upper part of the church.

PRESIDENT TALKS AGRICULTURE TO KANSAS FARMERS

No Government Ever Did So Much For Farmer, He Says.

Hutchinson, Kas., June 23.—His world court and railroad speeches behind him, President Harding came out among the dirt farmers of Kansas to talk agriculture.

Addressing an audience made up of thousands of Kansas farmers at the fair grounds here this afternoon, the president declared challengingly that no government in the world has done as much for its farmers as his administration at Washington since the blight of depression settled over the country in 1920.

"It is undeniably true that farmer has suffered terribly in the deflation period, but he reminded the farmers that this suffering was not confined to the farmer alone but extended into all phases of America's economic life. If the farmers suffered most, he said it was because of the fundamental inequalities of the industry and not because anybody was 'picking on the farmer'."

The terrific heat of the Mississippi valley, coupled with the strenuous program the president everywhere is called upon to carry out, already have begun to tell on him. A swollen and sun-burned face today attested to the rigors of the Missouri sun. At Kansas City last night, it was necessary to apply ice packs to Mr. Harding's lips before his speech.

DEPOSED MATRON RESTORED TO JOB

Columbus, June 23—Mrs. Mae E. Stannard found herself restored to the position of chief matron of the Girls' Industrial school at Delaware today.

Removed by Director of Welfare John E. Harper on June 5, Mrs. Stannard's appeal to the state civil service commission from the action of the director was to have been heard by the commission at the Delaware institution Monday.

Her restoration as chief matron came through a two-fold action today.

1.—The state civil service commission dismissed the charges against her and ruled that she is to receive full pay from the date of her dismissal.

2.—Attorney General C. C. Crabbe advised Director Harper that his removal of Mrs. Stannard was "clearly a violation of the law."

How Accurate Shoud a Watch Be?

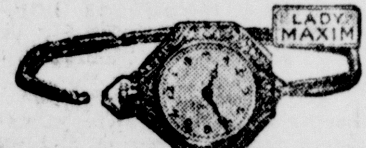

In the U. S. naval observatory there are several Rietler clocks, installed at great expense.

These are mounted on concrete piers to avoid vibration.

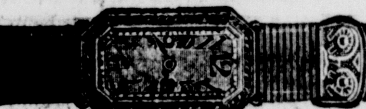

They are housed in a room which is kept always at a constant temperature. Every 28 seconds they are wound by electricity—their pendulums swing in a vacuum. Yet, in spite of all the precautions which human ingenuity can devise, these clocks do not keep perfect time.

The public, ignorant of these facts, often expect accuracy, from a watch of unknown foreign manufacture. Obviously a cheap watch cannot be as accurate as a more costly one.
